VALESKA SURRATT, ACTRESS WHO HAS BEEN SUPPRESSED IN NEW YORK

New York, May 12.—Mayor Gaynor of New York, having notified the police to stop the performances of Valeska Suratt in "The Girl With the Whoooping Cough," the managers of the show are smiling over the thoughts of the harvest they can reap with the show on tour. But Mayor Gaynor promises to go even further. He says that the show is not fit for the American stage and that he feels it will be his duty to notify his fellow executives throughout the country that this show should not be permitted on any stage. In the meantime Miss Suratt, who has won fame for her striking costumes if nothing else, has also been barred from giving a vaudeville act at Hammerstein's.

As an incentive to better battling on the part of the Mechanics, G. W. Fairchild & Sons, the Main street jewelers, have come forward with an offer of a silver loving cup, which is to be awarded to the local player having the best average at the end of the season. The cup is a beauty, standing about 18 inches in height, having two embossed arms. On one side is a corrugated surface in raised silver letters is the following inscription, "Season 1910—Highest Battering Average, The Mechanics, Bridgeport, Conn." The cup rests on an ebony pedestal, making in all a height of about two feet. The cup will be placed on exhibition in Fairchild's window today.

Weather Indications

New Haven, May 14.—Forecast: partly cloudy tonight Sunday fair. A high pressure area, central this morning over the upper lake region, overpowers the entire country from the Mississippi valley eastward. The temperature continues below the seasonal average in the district. Conditions favor for this vicinity partly cloudy and unsettled weather tonight, fair Sunday with not much change in temperature.

WALL STREET TO-DAY.

New York, May 14.—(Opening)—The stock market opened steady with a majority of the issues showing moderate gains. Later Reading, Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific showed off and their example was followed by several industrials. At 11 a. m.—After the first few minutes trading was strong, moving up and prices made material gains. Government bonds unchanged other bonds dull. Closing—Decided strength was shown in the stock market in the last hour's trading. Everything in which there was a fair amount of business showed in general upward movement which carried prices up from fractions over 2 points. Reading was a prominent feature, crossing 162. The Copper stocks were strong, moving up over one point and a good degree of strength was shown in all the other leading railroads and industrials.

NEWEST NOTES OF SCIENCE

Lavender and rose perfumes are said to be fatal to cancer. The best "sandpaper" is made from powdered port wine and stout bottles. A ten story building recently was erected in New York in 7 working days. Freshly cut bark of the cork tree, if heated, gives off a gas that can be used as an illuminant. Since May 1 Boston has required retail milk dealers to sell their product in sealed bottles only. A drainpipe for wet dishes, to be hung on one side of a dish pan, is a new convenience for the housewife. Attempts will be made during the aviation meet at Rheims, France, in July to take moving pictures from aeroplanes. It is claimed for a new electrical melting pot for glass that it keeps its contents at a perfectly even temperature. The Department of Agriculture is experimenting in several of the Southern States with Japanese grasses used for matting.

Dalton's Experiment.

The English chemist Dalton was a schoolteacher. He worked without a laboratory and with crude apparatus, mostly made by himself from simple materials. Here is an example described in his own words: "Took an ale glass of a conical figure, two and a half inches in diameter and three inches deep; filled it with water that had been standing in the room and consequently of the temperature of the air nearly; put the bulb of the thermometer to the bottom of the glass, the scale being out of the water. Then, having marked the temperature, I put the red-hot tip of the poker half an inch deep in the water, holding it there steadily for half a minute, and as soon as it was withdrawn I dipped the bulb of a sensible thermometer into the water, when it rose in a few seconds to 180 degrees." He then determined the temperature of the water at the bottom after five minutes, after twenty minutes and after an hour and found that it rose gradually from 47 to 52 degrees. This simple experiment proved that water has the power to conduct heat, which had been denied by no less an authority than Rumford.—Youth's Companion.

The Mistake He Made.

He sauntered into the central police station and approached the desk sergeant. There was a careworn look on his face. He stood there a moment as if in reverie. Finally as tears coursed down his cheeks he timidly said: "I want to give myself up." "What have you done that you should seek a felon's cell?" the sergeant asked. "I have long been a fugitive from justice. The welfare of society demands that I should be punished." "But what is it? What heinous offense have you committed?" "I am a bigamist—yes, a polygamist—and I don't dare think what worse. No longer must I keep it from the world. Lock me up. I am ready to do penance." "But will you not explain?" "Yes, if you insist. I thought I married only the daughter, but I have found, to my sorrow, that the whole family was included."—Kansas City Independent.

No Morals in Dreamland.

If, as many writers have suggested, it is the soul itself that guides the imagery of dreams, how are we to explain the fact that in this chaos of ideas and feelings there is so little distinction between right and wrong that when dreaming we commit acts for which we should weep tears of blood were they as real as they seem to be. As Professor Hoffman has said, "The familiar check of waking hours, I must not do it because it would be unjust or unkind, never once seems to arrest us in the satisfaction of any whim which may blow about our wayward fancies."

From all of which we must conclude that the dream realm is a world that is entirely oblivious to any moral sense and that, though it may be true that a troubled conscience may produce or affect our dreams, the dreams themselves are never burdened with a conscience.—Bohemian Magazine.

Going Some.

Being pursued by a farmer and his three sons after being caught in the chicken yard, a young colored person had just made up his mind that he was not eluding his followers as quickly as he might be when a long eared jack rabbit jumped up from the roadside and started down the road ahead of him. The would be chicken thief had run a few hundred feet farther when the farmer and his boys were astonished to hear the negro shout in a voice that quavered with fright, though unrestrained, "Say, for de Lord sake, you rabbit, get out ob de way and let some one run who can run."—Argonaut.

A Doleful Mood.

The proprietor of a Paris cafe noticed that after he had refused to give his pianist an increase of salary the number of his customers dwindled rapidly. It was only when all but one diner had deserted him that he discovered that the pianist had been inflicting Chopin's "Funeral March" on the audience nightly. The pianist, who was proceeded against in the law courts and was fined 50 francs, pleaded that he played according to the mood he felt in after his request had been refused.

One In; 'Tother Out.

"It must be very nice," said the caller to the author's wife, "to have your husband at home so much of the time." "Yes," replied Mrs. Richard Darlington Spriggles. "It gives me a chance to go out."—Harper's Weekly.

No Novelty.

"A novel always ends with the marriage." "Which is proper. There's nothing novel about the subsequent hunt for a flat and a cook and a job lot of furniture."—Puck.

Helping Him.

"Mr. Chairman," began the man who is unaccustomed to public speaking. "I—er—I—er—I—er—" "Well," interrupted the chairman kindly, "to err is human."—Washington Herald.

FORTIFICATION COMMITTEE OF THE PANAMA CANAL, VIEW OF THE BIG DITCH AND THIRTEEN INCH GUN

Panama, May 14.—Acting under orders of President Taft, the Panama canal fortification committee has concluded its report of how Uncle Sam will guard the big ditch in time of war. President Taft's report is in the hands of the congressional committee, and action on his recommendations is expected by June 1. The reports do not give the exact locations of the proposed fortifications, but it is explained that this cannot be furnished until information has been obtained regarding the "status and availability of certain parcels of land situated along the route of the canal." The armament for the proposed fortifications is enumerated as follows: Ten fourteen-inch rifles, twelve six-inch rifles and twenty-five twelve-inch mortars. The cost is estimated in excess of $14,000,000. The report states that the board has examined the ground at the termini of the canal and of territory in the neighborhood of the canal's course with a view of choosing the best sites for the big guns. "It is the right and duty of the United States to defend the work upon which it is expending such an enormous sum," the president says in his message. "An adequate defense requires suitable fortifications near the approaches to the terminals. I am of the opinion that such works as may be erected for the defense of the canal should be completed, occupied and ready for operation at the time the canal itself is completed and opened to the passage of yessels."

CHRISTIAN CHINK MAULS LITTLE BOY

Charlie King's Example to His Heathen Brethren Not of the Best.

Charles King, the Chinese laundry man of 222 Wood avenue, touted as a fine example of what Christianity will do for celestials, was today fined $50 and costs for beating little Joseph Osborne of 117 Park avenue several days ago. King posted bonds of $200 for his appearance in the court of common pleas, denying the statements of the boys who testified against him. King's trouble with the Osborne boy, it was shown, grew out of a scrap in which his two sons, the King boys who were strangely missing about a year ago, and were believed to have been kidnapped, had become involved with other school children.

WORK OF WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS

The Woman's Relief Corps is an organization which works quietly and without ostentation, therefore the good work being accomplished by it is not wholly known by the public. They devote time and money to soothe the sick and dying, comfort the sorrowful, and assist and encourage the unfortunate, besides giving aid in many ways. The society was organized at Denver, Col., in 1881, and has a membership of 58 and a few dollars, till in 1910 it has enrolled 165,000 members and expended for relief work over $3,000,000. It is an auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic and was almost from its start, and now it stands as the largest relief organization in the United States, and (omitting loss by death and in other ways) at present numbers more than 125,000 members in good standing. Connecticut includes in its ranks 3,175 and 47 corps. The month of May is full of activity throughout the State, for the Soldiers' Home at Noroton, and the Memorial Day observances, also services in some church the Sunday evening preceding Memorial Day for the "unknown dead." The Elias Howe Jr. Relief Corps included in their meetings, Thursday afternoon, a spirited discussion on the preceding subjects. The report from the convention was read by the delegate, Edie T. Kelsey, also general reports. A utility fund was argued. An invitation from the Post to attend the Memorial service in the Park Street church on the evening of the 29th was read and accepted. An arrangement for as many members as possible to visit the Soldiers' Home at Noroton the 19th of May, that being the day set by the Hartford convention for the pilgrim march, was also discussed. Each lady is to carry a well filled basket. The Relief Corps also considered the advisability of entertaining the Sons of Veterans Memorial Day.

Cipolla at Commercial and Main streets, and will locate there within a short time. SINGING REHEARSALS. The United German Singing Societies will rehearse at Arion hall, 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, for the concert to be given in connection with the address to the German American Alliance, by Dr. Hexamer of Philadelphia, Wednesday night, at Eagles' Hall.

COMET IS NO STRANGER TO TWO NONOGENARIANS. Hartford, May 14.—Because it was an old friend of theirs, Halley's comet failed to worry them and because they have seen too many lucky and unlucky Fridays, the fact that yesterday was the dread Friday, the thirteenth marred in no degree the pleasure of two nonagenarians who celebrated their birthdays in this city with the awesome comet whirling toward them for the second time in their lives.

Mrs. Martha Holmes Cushman, who was born ninety years ago in West Stafford, Conn., spent a quiet day at her home in Church street. At the other end of the town Charles Albert Chapin quietly observed the arrival of his ninety-third birthday. He remembers the visit of Lafayette to the unveiling of Bunker Hill Monument, in 1824, as well as Halley's comet on its previous round trip. Lewis W. Ripley of Glastonbury, remarked that yesterday morning he discovered a star of about the sixth magnitude in the centre of the comet's head and that it shone undimmed through the mass of gas. CONNECTICUT SOCIETY OF SOCIAL HYGIENE FORMED IN HARTFORD. Hartford, May 14.—At a meeting held last night the Connecticut Society of Social Hygiene was formally organized with 524 charter members. The organization was made possible by the gift of $1,000 from an unknown donor. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. P. H. Ingalls, Hartford; vice president, ex-Gov. George P. McLean, Rt. Rev. Chauncey B. Brewster, Supreme Court Judge Silas A. Robinson, President W. A. Shaw, Prof. M. W. Jacobs, Hartford; Dean Henry Wade Rogers, New Haven; Professor Chittenden, New Haven; treasurer, Dr. C. S. Stern, Hartford; secretary, Dr. T. H. Hepburn, Hartford; chairman of legislative committee, ex-Chief Justice Simon E. Baldwin. No matter what you want try the Farmer Want Column.

(Special from United Press.) New York, May 14.—Mrs. Catherine Decker Rollins, wife of former Governor Rollins of New Hampshire, was formally arrested today on a charge of conspiring to smuggle jewelry and wearing apparel into this country. When she was arraigned before Commissioner Shields her bond of $2,500 was furnished for her examination.
